

My intro: name pronounced uh-LAY-nuh

Over the last 20 years, Alana Hill has led teams of oilfield technicians, engineers, programmers, and kids. Her experience as an Engineer and Project Manager keeps her focused on excellence, and her compassion helps her bring out the best in others. Alana's appreciation for world cultures has landed her in over a dozen countries on five continents, and led to numerous global implementations. A passionate trainer and coach, Alana helps her clients manage change and overcome challenges. Ms. Hill is a speaker, author and purveyor of The Ms. Engineer Way, which she describes as leading with a critical eye and a compassionate spirit. She is here today to share her experience and insight with "<Insert Program Title>".
